WHAT'S IN A NAME

St. Marguerite Manor honours St. Marguerite d'Youville, the foundress of the Grey Nuns hospital in Edmonton, AB. Dulcina Hospice is named after one of the four founding Sisters of Charity, Sister Maria Olivia Dulcina Beauchemin, who travelled from Montreal to Calgary in the late 1800s to open a hospital. Although the early years in Calgary were a time of hardship, her training allowed her to care for the most vulnerable patients with compassion and comfort as they faced their illnesses. Dulcina Hospice honours her pioneering spirit and service to those in need.

The name Dulcina represents kindness and gentleness—attributes that reflect that care and compassion needed to care for residents as they journey through end of life.

WHAT'S IS SUPPORTIVE LIVING?

At St. Marguerite Manor, supportive living means maintaining our residents' independence, health and well-being. We meet the physical, emotional and spiritual needs of our residents while respecting their privacy and lifestyle choices. Supportive living provides accommodation and support services with the goal of assisting residents to have meaning and purpose in their life. We support residents to remain as independent as possible while accommodating their changing needs.

There are various supportive living designations. St. Marguerite Manor residents are Supportive Living 4 or Supportive Living 4 (dementia). Supportive Living Level 4 (SL4) is a setting that provides you with a home where you can enjoy privacy and independence with the comfort of knowing health and personal care supports are on site when you need them.

We also offer Memory Care suites to residents who require Supportive Living Level 4 – Dementia (SL4D). Memory Care includes specialized dementia care methodologies for those residents who require more assistance due to cognitive impairment.

WHAT IS HOSPICE CARE?

Hospice care provides health care and other services to residents who are near the end of their lives. Its purpose is not to hasten or prolong death but to enhance the quality of the resident's remaining life by providing peace and comfort. Dulcina Hospice provides holistic, personalized and compassionate care that celebrates life and addresses each resident's physical, emotional, social and spiritual needs. We believe each resident is special, sacred and deserves to be comforted and treated with dignity. Our care teams strive to make this difficult time manageable and meaningful for our residents and their loved ones by providing family-centred care whenever possible and enabling our residents to die with dignity.

LIVING AT ST. MARGUERITE MANOR

Alberta Health Services (AHS) Transition Services coordinates St. Marguerite Manor admissions. Your loved one can list St. Marguerite Manor as his or her preferred location and AHS will assess him or her for eligibility.

LIVING AT DULCINA HOSPICE

When your loved one can no longer stay at home, or when staying in a hospital is no longer necessary, your care provider might suggest hospice care as a more suitable alternative. At this point, your care provider will ask you to name at least three of your preferred hospices. As soon as a bed is available in any of the centres you have listed, you will be notified and arrangements will be made to transport your loved one to the centre.
